To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to inform you the of the quality of work Peter Wood has performed for me. I first approached Peter about being my official voice for my product on a Tuesday morning, once I had told him what my product would accomplish he was very excited to help me with it.

It required Peter to record several messages using different text and inflections and I was surprised to say the least that he not only had agreed to do it so quickly, but that he had finished it in short order as well.

He even spent time to rework some of the text so that it would sound more professional and asked for my approval before recording it as well.

He sent me the files the next day and I was amazed at how well they sounded in comparison to what I had recorded myself.

I can't say how much I feel that putting something out there that is not 100% professional can hurt your business, and this is because of my interaction with Peter Wood of petesvoice.com.

I would recommend Peter to anyone who needs a professional voice representation of their product and I would be willing to speak with anyone either in person or by phone if they had any additional questions about the quality of work that Peter produces.

Sincerely,
